

Uniforms and You

Uniform Kink and the variety of play options available in a VR capacity.

What is Uniform Kink?

- Simply put: Uniform kink is Kinking on uniforms.
- Less simply put: Uniform kink is a subset of kinky play that involves various outfits associated with trades, jobs, or positions of authority. This can involve roleplay, powerplay, or simply aesthetics, but all versions of Uniform kink fall into the subset of clothing kink.

Uniforms and Aesthetics

- The least intense form of uniform kink is the aesthetic. This involves things like photography, cosplay, peep shows, or simply enjoying the feel of a uniform wrapped around you instead of your regular clothing.
- This is more about presentation and enjoyment of that presentation, and as such isn't explicitly about arousal or power exchange. Here are some examples of people wearing uniforms that would fall under this umbrella.
- One way that people play with uniforms is cosplay! Characters in a uniform are often aesthetically arranged so that the uniform is highlighted as a core part of the character, and therefore the uniform is a major focus point for the camera and the person wearing the uniform.

Cosplay as Play

- One way that people play with uniforms is cosplay! Characters in a uniform are often aesthetically arranged so that the uniform is highlighted as a core part of the character, and therefore the uniform is a major focus point for the camera and the person wearing the uniform.
- This can be considered a subset of kink, because it's about feeling good while wearing a uniform in a way that's about looks and attention. There's also a lot of characters in uniform that people play with in roleplay settings, for the power exchange or the fanfic. While this is a SFW way of playing, it falls under the umbrella for uniform kink as a low-intensity entry level.

Uniforms as Shorthand for Authority

- Often, uniforms are used to convey authority or access.
- Police uniforms, military uniforms, high-vis uniforms, and pilot uniforms create the expectation of authority.
- Maid uniforms, school uniforms, retail uniforms, and flight attendant uniforms create the expectation of service and obedience to the figure of authority.
- Mechanics overalls, plumbers uniforms, and other forms of trade-specific PPE can be used in a kinky setting to denote competence or maybe create a financial power imbalance in a scene that can be played out to great effect.

Sexy Halloween Costume Rule

- If it is sold as a 'sexy Halloween costume', it is kinky. It DOES NOT matter if it's meant for a kink event or the person wearing it is using it in a scene, because the uniform itself is the sexuality vector, it is kinky.

Uniforms have Meaning!

- When you're playing with uniforms in a kink setting, it's always a good idea to make sure that you're not getting Too Realistic.
- Some examples: rank markers and tabs, medal plates, state symbols, emergency response markers.
- These symbols are all listed in the various countries databases of uniform code
- Military uniforms especially: Choose what you want to do about medal plates and unit markers. Some units are Historically Charged, and some units are active duty. If you're going to go for realism in the bedroom, consider keeping it there so that you don't wind up in a stolen valor situation.
- If it is Your uniform: Do what you want with it and I won't caution you about it.

The Elephant In The Room

- Hugo Boss has a LOT to answer for.
- I've seen real nazi uniforms and insignia used for 'kinky play'. This is gross, but I'm not going to stop you. I will side-eye and judge your lack of care for human life, but your kinks are not my kink and that's ok.
- The uniforms were DESIGNED to look like they do for psychological reasons. They were well designed, if poorly executed.
- Use the design theory behind the uniforms as you like, but you CAN strip out the hate symbols! You don't need to wear the arm band or the eagle or the SS badge to look badass in this style of uniform!
- This is a personal pet peeve, NONE of you do this shit to my knowledge, and you won't, but it's one major facet of uniform kink in my experience that comes with being politically charged.
- Fuck the Nazis, Fuck the Facista, Fuck the Imperialists, and Fuck the Soviets. WW2 was a nightmare but it's a well remembered nightmare in part because of the iconography of design that went into the psyop machine.
- Do not fuck them in the fun way, I want to be clear.

IN CONCLUSION

- Uniforms are a fun way to play!
- Be careful about your materials for sensitive skin.
- Latex versions of most of these uniforms exist. Do with that what you will.
- You feel what you wear, so wear what makes you happy.
